The philosophy of the Owner of Luca Winery

The history of Argentinean wines goes back to the 16th century, and nowadays many farmers still stick to the old ways. They have been planting grapes generation after generation, but use the precious old vineyards to make bulk wine. Laura's idea was to cooperate with the farmers, making great wines from their small family vineyards; and so Luca Winery was born. Now, Luca has become one of the finest wines of Argentina. This is due to Laura's courage to change and persistence for perfection.

Laura's family has produced wine in Argentina for four generations, though founding her own brand Luca, Laura still has great respect for her family. "My father is the best father in the world" she said. "He gives me freedom to make decisions, and always encourages me".

"But I'm not like him" she laughed, Laura described herself as a strict mother, and has expectations for her children. You can tell, as she named her winery after her oldest son, and the wines Beso de Dante and Nico by Luca too.

For Laura is hard to avoid facing the challenges and difficulties when making wine but she always tries to overcome them, for her this is the spirit of wine. Her family Catena Zapata has over 100 years history making wine and Laura is also ready to lead Luca to their own century.
